WELCOME TO OUR QUARTERLY UPDATE!

In this edition, you will read how we strengthened reproductive justice through a landmark law-and-abortion session, fortified our operational rigor via enhanced Monitoring & Evaluation training, championed mental wellbeing alongside the National Victims' Rights Centre, elevated reproductive justice for LBQT communities, and successfully expanded our digital referral network. These highlights exemplify our steadfast commitment to evidence-driven advocacy and impactful service delivery.

SUCCESSFUL REFERRALS

Who said online advocacy doesn't work? We can tell a different story.

Law & Abortion Deep-Dive

We summoned our inner legal eagles in June, dissecting Kenya's abortion laws with razor-sharp insight. From myth-busting, to policy proposals, participants left armed with actionable advocacy tools—no courtroom drama required. Our spirited dialogue sparked fresh momentum toward reproductive justice.

M&E Masterclass

We conducted an intensive Monitoring & Evaluation training for staff to strengthen organisational capacity. Through hands-on exercises and tailored modules, team members enhanced their ability to design indicators, collect reliable data, and perform rigorous analysis—ensuring that each programme is evidence-driven, accountable, and positioned for sustainable impact.

“Mind Matters”

During Mental Health Awareness Month in May, 3W partnered with the National Victims' Rights Centre to deliver a digital mental health initiative. Through webinars, social media engagements, and resource toolkits, the campaign increased public understanding of mental wellbeing, reduced stigma, and provided accessible psychosocial support options to beneficiaries nationwide.

New Healthcare Provider Cohort

We inaugurated a new cohort of healthcare service providers, offering two specialized trainings on gender and sexual diversity beyond the binary framework. These sessions focused on inclusive clinical practices, non-discrimination protocols, and culturally sensitive communication—empowering providers to deliver equitable, reproductive justice to LBQT individuals.

What more?

Digital Referral Outcomes

Between April and June, our online platforms facilitated a significant number of successful client referrals to partner clinics offering Comprehensive Abortion Care. Tracking metrics indicate enhanced reach and engagement, demonstrating that our digital advocacy framework effectively connects women and LBQT persons to critical health, legal, and psychosocial resources.

Conclusion

As we conclude Issue02/025, we extend our sincere gratitude to our donors, partners, and stakeholders for enabling these strides in policy, practice, and digital outreach. Your support underpins our ability to safeguard bodily autonomy, promote mental health, and ensure equitable access to quality care for women and LBQT persons across Kenya. We look forward to building on these foundations in the next quarter and driving even greater impact together!
